Quite a few of the local fams told E-innels last night that Carsey had been seen in Baltimore, and Schmels lost no time in wiring to the Monumental CIV. He will also go to Baltimore today and will try to find Carsey. If he succeeds in finding Carsey, he will have him brought to this city. Victory to His String. SHANKS UNABLE TO WALK

Special to The Washington Result.

Chicago, * Ill. July 22.—Manager Griffith is in a quandary as to his pitching selection for the final game of the series here tomorrow. Had the Climbers won today, Engel would have started tomorrow's game and Joe Boehling saved for the first contest at home on Friday with the St. Louis Browns. Now the chances are that Boehling will do the honors here in the farewell combat of the present Western trip.

Boehling will do the honors nere in the farewell combat of the present Western trip.

The Climbers were mad clean through at the loss of today's game. They do not take defeat gracefully these days to take defeat gracefully these days had unless the White Sox play better hall tomorrow than has been in evidence during the present series they are in for a sound drubstrate they are in for a sound drubstrate to convince Griffith that he can hold his own with any of the big league hurders, and Griff may finally sected to start the Washington kid.

"If the fellows would only make a few runs behind me, I know I would win more games," moaned Engel at the dinner table tonight. "It seems as if every time I go in the box our club is up against a touch pitcher, and I am forced to shut the opposing team out in order to win my game."

Griff would really like to let Boehling.

Howard Shanks spent last night and today in bed with his right foot propped up on a pillow as the result of his fancy diving stunt last night when a sprained ankie was sustained.

The foot is so badly avolien that it is impossible to determine whether or not any of the bones are broken, and, as soon as the Washington club returns home Thursday, Shanks will be taken to be the total to the injury, which at present is mighty painful to the young outfielder.

The Nationals will

The Nationals will leave Chicago on the 5 o'chick express tomorrow night, and are due in the Capital late Thursday afternoon.

Tomorrow's game will not be started earlier than the usual time, neither will it be called at a specified hour, but every effort will be made to hurry things along in order to catch the train.

weaver and Chase pulled off one of the most remarkable plays ever seen on a ball field during the fourth inning at today's game. Frank Laporte smashed what would ordinarily have been a clean single over second base. Weaver dashed after the ball, picked it out of the dirt with one hand, and while off his balance threw to Chase. The ball was scooped up by the first baseman on the pick-up with his gloved hand and Laporte was retired by half a step.

There is a possibility that Milan may be out of the game tomorrow. The center fielder was hit in the right elbow joint by one of Russell's shoots during the third inning today, and tonight the elbow started to swell. Trainer, Martin believes that an ice bag application will bring the Tennessee Piper around all right.

Nationals' Batting Averages

Don't Drink Green Beer

You Can Get This Rich. Properly Aged Bohemian Style Beer

Green beer is beer that isn't properly "aged." Green beer sends you to the doctor. It is sold to you in dark bottles.

The dark bottle is insanitary—unsafe. In the rapid cap-ping and rebottling of beer foreign matter stuck to the glass cannot be detected. Insist on beer bottled in light bottles. Perfect Brew is aged properly, therefore requires no "dark bottle" to protect it from the light. Perfect Brew is made pure, remains pure, is always pure, regardless of ex-posure to light or change of climate.

Hence its name-Perfect Brew. Perfect Brew is the ideal beverage and tonic.

Insist on Perfect Brew "Bottled in Light Bottles."
